Boatanchors at theporch - pulling the plug

Well, it has been a good run since August 1992 when this list was started by Jim Lockwood KM6NK . But the time has come to flip the switch due to inactivity and maintenance issues. There were about 24 threads last year and I was responsible for maybe 8-10 of them.

List manager Jack Hill W4KH just disappeared into the ozone several years ago - email and snail mail remain unanswered, etc. I've been handling list manager duties for the last year.

Jack's buddy Dr. Phillip Porch has been paying for the software and maintaining the hardware even though he's not a ham and was just doing a favor for Jack.

But the latest messages here have resulted in 53 bounces because gmail doesn't like something or other and we really need to let Phil off the hook.

So please consider signing up for the "other" Boatanchors list. Many of us are already on there and the s/n ratio seems pretty good.

PLEASE DON'T RESPOND TO THE LIST! YELL AT ME INSTEAD.
I've been here literally since day one and I'll take responsibility for turning out the lights.

73, thanks for the memories, & Keep 'em Glowing!

Nick,

Thanks for posting.? I think most of us are on the QTH list, but there might be a straggler or two.

I am on both lists. Sorry to see Porch go but we still have the QTH one.
